HEALEY

Congressman George A. Neeley of the Seventh district will return to Kansas about April 1. He will spend a couple of weeks—maybe three or four weeks—campaigning in the state in the interests of his candidacy for the Democratic United States senatorial nomination. Neeley's senatorial announcement was made at the Democratic banquet in Topeka, February 23. Friends and candidates for Neeley's congressional job, pledged a $5,000 campaign fund and now the Seventh district congressman is coming home to spend the first installment of the contribution.

Friends of the Editors

Recently Henry J. Allen announced that his Wichita Beacon would not ather over the Allen gubernatorial candidacy and that the influence of the paper would not be used to promote the publisher's political interests. All of which created more or less comment among the Kansas publishers. Viewing the situation from a safe distance Charley Blakesley of the Kansas City Star remarks:

Star remarks:

"His scruples do him credit, but his sxample is not likely to be generally followed in Kansas this year. The Topoka Capital seems to be fairly infatuated with Arthur Capper's candidacy for governor. The Salina Journal never goes to press without giving an hussah for Senator Bristow. And the Leavenworth Times makes no secret of the fact that it regards Dan Anthony as about the noblest statesman in the Kansas congressional delegation." Star remarks:

Hodges is Home.

Governor Hodges returned to Topeka today from a visit to the state institutions at Larned and Dodge City and a political invasion of western Kansas territory. On his trip the governor spoke at Belleville, Larned, Dodge City and Sylvia, Reno county. He also spent several hours in Hutchinson and Kinsley and returned to Topeka this morning.

MYSTERIOUS HORSE DISEASE.

Many Die at Waverly and Others Are Sick.

Waverly, Kan., March 19.—George W. Calvert, county clerk of Coffey county, and James Crea, his son-inlaw, who lives on a farm nine miles west of Waverly, have lost ten head of good young horses during the past few days. Eight others were sick, but recent reports stated that they were getting along all right. Veterinarians from Burlington, Waverly and Emports were unable to diagnose the cases with much certainty and only upon very hard and persistent labors were the other eight saved.

The rations of these horses were mostly alfalfs and prairie hay and ensilage. Other horses in another lot adjoining or at least close by were unaffected by the disease.

His Ashes by Parcel Post.
New York, March 19.—The sales of Baron Carl Gromadsinsky, who lied at New Rochelle of apoplexy a month ago, were shipped yesterlay by parcel post to his old home in Germany by his friend, Robert Lesser. The package, weighing eight pounds, cost $1.05 to send and was addressed to Baron Sondermann, at Samter, Posen. Baron Sondermann purchased the estate from the Gromadsinsky family many years ago, but the family holds the right of burisl in the ancestral vault.

The fort's Theater.

Two blocks away, the fort's amusement hall—the building where the old soldiers hold their public meetings and to go three times each week to attend a moving picture show—there was a crowd that occupied every seat and possible foot of standing room. Here more traditions regarding conditions in the fort were shattered. For a few minutes Mrs. Jennie Maffat was in the center of the stage. On behalf of the center of the stage. On Mike Sutton Mourns for Turkey.

Then Mike Sutton spoke again. He reminded the old boys that there was no turkey dinner last Christmas. And Mike Sutton's remarks started an experience meeting that for a time rivaled an old fashioned Methodist revival. Down near the front of the hall a gray haired little man reminded Sutton that the fort had been given 250 quarts of oysters for Christmas and that they answered for the absence of a turkey or chicken dinner quite nicely. Besides, and the little gray haired man scratched his head to make sure of his facts, he didn't recall the state providing a turkey diner in the seven or eight years he had lived at the fort. Which recalled to the mind of Mrs. Lawler a few thoughts. She and her husband have been in the home several years, she said. And she wanted a notation made in the record that the groceries, dry goods and clothing under the present administration were not only sufficient but of a high quality and she was happy. Then Mrs. Eshander, who has been at the fort nine years, and Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Dyer, each of whom have lived at Dedge seven years, leaned over to a reporter and stated that they wanted to go on record as endorsing everything Mrs. Lawler said.

The meeting was over.

been unexcelled in the history of the country. Senator Shively said in part:

"The tariff has been revised and revised downward. In that work no honest fear, no mistaken apprehension was lightly ignored. On the other hand, that powerful confederacy of special privilege which has fattened honest fear, no mistaken apprehension was lightly ignored. On the other hand, that powerful confederacy of special privilege which has fattened on the perversion of custom house taxation did not dictate a paragraph, a line or syllable of that revision.

"The currency problem has been solved. The control of the circulating medium of the country has been divorced from speculators on the dizzy height of frenzied finance, and our circulation made available to develop the resources and enterprise of all paris of the country. The solution is a triumph of American statesmanship."

Touching the international questions confronting the administration, Senator Shively said:

"In no time of peace in the history of the country has so large a number of perplexing problems confronted a president as those coming to President Wilson at his inauguration. These he has met with a discarnment, a firmness, delicacy and tact unexcelled in the history of the country.

"His obligation is to the peace and country.

"His obligation is to the peace and the security of all our citizens. The American people will approve a president who will no more countenance a heedless stampede into extreme measures than he would shrink from such measures should the circumstances justify them."

Independence, Kan., March 19.—One of the largest damage suits filed in recent months in the district court here was that filed today by Ira M. hart, il years old, who sues the M. K. & T. Rallway company for $50,200 for the loss of an arm due, he says, to the negligence of the company at the time of the accident that made him a cripple. He was employed in the company's shops at Parsons. Bafety appliances, the claims, would have prevented the accident.

Opening prices were 1600 to his higher and there was some further gain, but then the market inclined to and.

WHEAT—Show in Nebruska and Kansas sased wheat. The additional supply of moisture was coupled with bearish crop estimates ranging from 110,000,000 bushels to 150,000,000 for Kansas. Prices opened its off to a shade up, and gradually suffered an all around decline.

OATS—Demand for oats proved to be tame. Accordingly a slight rise in quotations failed to last.

PROVINIONE—Higher prices for hoga gave provisions a lift. First sales varied from the same as last night to he advance. The gains, however, were well heid.
